OER Resources for HUM 101

How to Use this Resource Page

This page has sample materials and resources for instructors teaching HUM 101 using OER materials (without a traditional textbook). The primary text for this course is Writer’s Handbook, available for free online. A sample syllabus is provided, including both information about the course and an assignment schedule. Links to all readings are provided in the title of the suggested reading, as well as links to possible assignment options and supplemental materials in the comments (accessible with an NJIT email address).

When adapting this syllabus, instructors should feel free to make modifications to class meeting days/times, in-class activities, hw and essay prompts, as well as content readings to suit their individual needs.

If you would like to see a sample syllabus schedule with possible content readings already inserted, please click here.

Course Description

HUM 101 is an introduction to college-level writing. In this course, students are introduced to writing’s rhetorical dimensions; they are asked to consider the purpose, audience, occasion, and genre that are called for in a variety of writing, speaking, or visual assignments. The course also focuses on the writing processes, asking students to brainstorm topics, to write drafts, and to revise their writing based on reflection and peer feedback. Writing and reading go hand-in-hand, so students are asked to read challenging articles, essays, and prose, and to consider paintings, films, or other visual compositions. Academic writing begins from the assumption that written, visual, and spoken texts can be in conversation with each other. Thus, the readings serve as both models of effective communication and as beginning places for students’ own arguments and analyses.

Prerequisites

Permission of the Humanities Department is required. Entrance is determined by placement score or completion of HUM 099 with a grade of C or better.

Course Goals

During this course you will:

● Gain knowledge of writing’s rhetorical dimensions
● Use writing as a tool for critical thinking and reflection
● Practice writing as a process by using various brainstorming, invention, revision, and editing strategies
● Write in several genres that utilize analysis, reflection, narrative, critique, and argument skills
● Practice using the conventions of written, spoken, and visual composition
● Practice writing and creating in digital environments

Required Texts

This course uses an OAT (Open Affordable Textbook).

About OpenTextbook:

An “open” textbook means that its authors have made it free to own, share, and adapt for non-commercial purposes. Instead of having to buy it, you can just read it online, download it to an electronic device (like a computer or e-reader), or print out some or all of it. The book for this course is Writer’s Handbook.
REQUIRED AND/OR SUPPLEMENTAL READING MATERIALS

- Open textbook or Open Educational Resources (OER) will be used for this course. Electronic links to all OER are on the Moodle course page.

Attendance
Attendance is critical to your success in this class. Participation in in-class activities, discussions is similar to the professional world. At a minimum, this means showing up on time, being prepared, and contributing to class discussions. Your level of engagement with the material will subsequently impact how much you get from the class.

You may miss up to one week of class without penalty. Every subsequent unexcused absence will result in the deduction of participation points. Students who expect to miss class for religious observances must submit to me a written list of dates that will be missed by September 11, 2018 (per university policy). More than six unexcused absences (three weeks of the course) can result in the automatic failure of the course.

Attendance on workshopping days is mandatory. If you know in advance that you will miss one of these days, please meet with me to arrange an alternative solution.

Please contact your classmates for missed work.

Assignment Submission
All assignments must be submitted in typed hard copy AND through Moodle. I will not accept emailed work. Specific formatting guidelines will vary according to each assignment, so please follow the explicit guidelines found on individual assignment sheets.

Assignments are due at the beginning of class. Late class work and homework will only be accepted if your absence is excused.

Late Work
Late work will not be accepted (except in the case of an excused absence). Should you know in advance that you have having trouble completing an assignment, please see me.
Technology
If you need to get a hold of me email is my preferred method. I will respond to your emails within 24 hours. Please plan accordingly. Remember to maintain an appropriate tone in all school-related correspondence. This means to include an appropriate SUBJECT line and your NAME in all emails. I will not respond to emails that do not include the sender’s name.

Cell phones should not be used during class unless needed for a specific activity. Please set them to silent as a courtesy to your classmates and instructor.

Laptops should only be open when we are drafting. For discussions and presentations they should remain closed.

NJIT University Code on Academic Integrity
The New Jersey Institute of Technology is an institution dedicated to the pursuit of knowledge through teaching and research. We expect out graduates to assume positions of leadership within their professions and communities. Honesty in your academic work will develop into professional integrity. The NJIT Code of Academic Integrity embodies a spirit of mutual trust and intellectual honesty that is central to the very nature of the university and represents the highest possible expression of shared values among the members of the university community.

All assignments submitted shall be considered "graded work" and all aspects of your coursework are covered by the Code on Academic Integrity. All projects and homework assignments are to be completed individually unless otherwise specified.

The full text of the NJIT University Code on Academic Integrity can be found at www.njit.edu/education/pdf/academic-integrity-code-pdf.

Special Needs
Every attempt will be made to accommodate qualified students with disabilities. If you are a student with a documented disability, please see me as early in the semester as possible to discuss the necessary accommodations, and/or contact Student Disability Services at 973-596-3420.

The Writing Center
The Writing Center (G17 Central King Building) is available for one-hour individual and group appointments with professional writing tutors both onsite and online. This resource is intended to help you improve your communication and writing skills. Tutors can help with planning assignments, improving your writing, refining an essay or multimedia project, or other communication-based needs. For more information, please visit http://www5.njit.edu/writingcenter/schedule-writing-center-appointment/
